Welcomes You!

Inflation

Unless you live under a rock, you have noticed that the price of everything has risen drastically. It seems like before long we will have to have some sort of collateral just so that we can take out a loan for a tank of gas. The value of the dollar keeps falling, and people wonder whether they will have enough money to afford anything.

However, the value of spiritual things never changes. For example, sin has always amounted to something that we cannot afford. Jesus told a parable of a man who owed the king ten thousand talents (Matthew 18:21-35). A single talent of gold or silver could provide a person with wages for possibly years, depending on which scholarly estimate you use to determine the value of a talent. Ten thousand talents would fund the building of Solomon's temple (1 Chronicles 29:1-9). Yet Jesus equates one single sin with a cost that no one man could ever pay. Then Jesus paid that price for us. And he could pay it because he sacrificed something more valuable than anything on earth: his own life (1 Peter 1:18-19).

Finally, consider that each of us has something worth more than the entire world: a soul. Jesus asked if we would exchange our souls for anything (Matthew 16:26). Nothing can compare to the value of a single soul. Thus, when we look around at the steadily increasing cost of nearly everything, we can take comfort knowing that we possess something that will never lose value.
