March 19, 2023

Greetings again from the Somerville Youth Group. As we make our way through the introductory ranks of our young Christian boys and girls, I realize that it is time for me to discuss my very own nephew. Allow me to introduce Ian Manning. Ian is currently thirteen years old and is being homeschooled by his Mom and Dad. He is in the 8th grade and hopes to one day earn a master's degree through Freed Hardeman University. I asked him what he would like to become in the next five to ten years and he still hasn't made up his mind entirely. He did say however that he is leaning heavily toward a career in something related to biology, zoology, or game design. The Church in Somerville has been home to Ian for about seven years now and holds a special place to him and us as the home in which he was baptized just this past year. While being very academically gifted, Ian not only is excelling in his schooling but also in the extracurricular activities in which he is involved. The three most notable activities he busies himself with are piano, martial arts, and theater. Most recently, Ian performed in Charlie and the Chocolate factory, at the Fair Theater in Somerville, as the lead role of Charlie and in my opinion, stole the star performance. I was very proud of him as his uncle and friend. Ian also enjoys his hobbies. He is an avid lego engineer and a video game enthusiast putting about as much passion into both as you'd expect out of a professional athlete. In my summation, Ian is a pretty awesome kid who has a bright future ahead of him and a lot of talent yet to be revealed.

What I love about our Youth Group is that each member is unique and talented in their own way and yet they also all find common ground in Christ. Ian is no different than the rest. He is currently devoted to living a godly life and plans his future accordingly. He one day hopes to be married to a beautiful Christ-like lady who will love and support him. Also, he said he would enjoy being a dad and plans on raising a couple of children of his own. Most importantly, he plans on living a life that ensures he will reach heaven, which I think is a noble goal. I remember holding him as a one-day-old baby 13 years ago and thinking how small and precious he was, I can now imagine the man he will grow into and the incredible life he has yet to live. Take a moment to get to know Ian. He's a young man of worth and he has a lot to share.
