Somerville Church of Christ

Welcomes You!

July 30, 2023

Hello Somerville family it has been a while since we had an update from the youth group, but it is time to start back in earnest. This week I would like to introduce one incredible young man, Camp Mallory. Camp is the son of our student intern family from the Memphis School of Preaching, Joe and Amy Mallory. Now 14 years old, he will begin his 9th-grade year of schooling in a few weeks. He and his siblings are all homeschooled by their Mom and Dad. His best subject in school is History, and to be more specific,

Bible history since it reveals the scriptures more in-depth. What I have learned about Camp is that he has a genuine love of God and his word. This shows in his daily life and regular interactions. As for extracurricular activities, on top of his list lies his family time and playing with his younger siblings. He also likes playing guitar and spending time out in nature. He is a skilled athlete and has played football, basketball, and soccer, and if you've ever competed against him will have learned he is quite capable. All in all, I'd say he is a very well-rounded individual. If you were to ask me what an ideal is for a young Christian I would point you towards Camp due to his example, friendly demeanor, and humility. As a congregation, we are all better off knowing and growing closer to young men of this caliber.

When Camp graduates high school, he will be attending the Memphis School of Preaching to become a Gospel preacher. He wants to do so because his mission is to help as many people through his life come to know the Lord. He also has determined to live a life capable of being a good deacon and, one day, an elder, so that the Church can continue to flourish wherever he goes. On top of these important goals, he says he would like to be a husband one day if it works out. Then, if it does, he would like to have children he can raise in Christ and have an incredible family just like the one he is a part of now. I have the highest regard for this young man and pray only success upon him as he sets out to accomplish his mission. Please be an encouragement to him and support him as he pushes on towards the mark.

In Christian Love,
Daniel Manning- Youth Minister
